

Scenario

Jason's parents have requested in writing that a reevaluation be completed as soon as possible. They feel his educational needs have changed, and they have requested a reevaluation before the current evaluation is due to expire. The team has reviewed Jason's progress and records. The PEA refuses to reevaluate the child at this time, and additional data will not be collected. The PEA will not honor the parent request for reevaluation.

Thinking Question

Is a PWN required to document the PEA's refusal to complete the requested reevaluation?
